OIL THE STREETS

The one all absorbing thought of every housewife in Bedford these days is how to successfully combat the terrible dust that threatens not only to destroy their homes, furniture and fixtures, but their nerves as well in a useless endeavor to keep their homes clean and inviting under present conditions. Particularly is the unpleasantness and destructive powers of this dust noticed on East and West Streets where the traffic is exceedingly heavy, due to the large number of army trucks that are now passing regularly through our town. It is acknowledged that the only possible way in which this dust can be avoided is to oil the streets but here the difficulty arises. One family is more than willing to do their share in bearing the slight expense of oiling their portion of the street while the next family absolutely declines to have anything whatever to do with such an arrangement. With affairs in this shape nothing can be done. The citizens who have an earnest desire to make their homes and surroundings as attractive as possible toward adding to the beauty of the town have to suffer with the indifferent and careless. The solution of the problem is to have the town council take charge of the work and see to it that all streets are oiled alike and the small amount of expense to the taxpayer when the oiling is done wholesale in this manner will amount to but little. Mercersburg with only one fifteenth of the traffic that passes Bedford, oils the streets under this arrangement, as well as does hundreds of other towns every summer, and there is no logical reason why Bedford cannot and should not do the same. It is economy to do so. The damage to property caused by this continuous cloud of dust day by day may not be noticed but by the end of the summer it will amount to considerable. The investment of a few dollars in such a cause will yield from fifteen to twenty per cent interest in actual saving. Why not make our town really beautiful for the coming summer when it is possible and to our interest to do it?

ARMY TRUCK WENT OVER BANK

100 Feet Down.

Last Saturday night one of the big army trucks, in passing a team got too near the embankment above Fyan's Mills, this side of "Lewis's Lookout", and plunged down over the hill for 100 feet. The immense truck moved down fences, trees, polls and all as it went and one place the surface did not show that the big truck touched the ground for 20 feet. Yet the boys stuck to the wheel and when it stopped they climbed off and laughed when others came with the stretchers to carry their bodies to the undertakers.

The truck when it stopped stood sideways on the hill and with a rope and tackle the other trucks yanked it around heading down cranked it up and it ran as smoothly as ever down into the fields and back onto the pike.

Auto Thief Captured

James Manspeaker was arrested in Hopewell township Wednesday by State Police for having stolen a Buick automobile in Pittsburg. He was committed to jail over night by Squire Ake and on Thursday was taken to Pittsburg by detectives from Pittsburg.

Unless this war does not close soon people will have to be satisfied with smaller newspapers. Print paper is getting scarcer and scarcer and harder to get. We will all have to learn to boil down—make long stories short, like telegraphing.

Bedford milk men fill their milk bottles so full of milk that there is no room or the top for cream to rise. That's why it is so.

Third Liberty Loan Campaign to Open at Noon, April 6th.

Big Drive to be Made in Bedford County

Much interest now centres in the Third Liberty Loan campaign which will open tomorrow at noon. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will unveil a miniature Statue of Liberty at City Hall, Philadelphia and will deliver an address in the Academy of Music in the afternoon. A monster parade will precede the unveiling of the statue. Demonstrations will be held in all the large cities.

Chairman A. B. Egolf, Secretary J. Roy Cessna and Chairman of Publicity B. F. Madore, Esq., of the Liberty Loan Committee of Bedford County are preparing to send out literature and posters and are completing the working organization for a thorough canvass of every district in the County. Chairman Egolf has prepared a statement which follows showing the assessed valuation of each district, the amount of money at interest and the pro rata share to be raised in order to meet the quota asked for Bedford County.

A chairman has been named for each district by Mr. Egolf, and each chairman will report at the end of each week to Mr. Egolf the total subscriptions. Each person named on the committee is expected to aid the men who are fighting our battles for us by giving of his time to the canvass of their districts. Every patriotic citizen will respond by lending his money to the Government.

As soon as a district has reached its quota, it will receive an honor flag on which can be inscribed the names of those to whom Third Liberty Bonds have been sold.

We are facing the greatest crisis not only in our own history but in the history of the world and it is incumbent on every patriotic American to sacrifice not only by lending money to the Government but by saving food, in fact, by doing everything that he can to give proper support to our army and navy that the priceless heritage of American citizenship bestowed upon us by the tremendous sacrifices and loyal services of our forefathers shall be passed on unencumbered to succeeding generations.

EASTER AT ST. JOHN'S REFORMED CHURCH.

The Easter Season at St. John's Reformed Church was ushered in by a beautiful service at eleven o'clock on the morning of Palm Sunday. At this service 12 young people were received into membership by the beautiful rite of confirmation. On the evening of Palm Sunday, the choir of St. John's church under the direction of Prof. S. H. Koontz and assisted by their friends rendered Maunder's "From Olivet To Calvary." The verdict of the large audience that assembled in St. John's Reformed church was that this most beautiful of sacred Cantatas was never more wonderfully rendered in Bedford than on the evening of Palm Sunday. On every hand were heard enthusiastic remarks about the manner in which the solo parts were sung by those to whom they had been assigned. Miss Magdalene Reed the organist of St. John's was deprived of the privilege of presiding at the organ on account of serious illness, but Miss L. D. Shuck manifested her usual generous spirit and came to the rescue most acceptably.

Services were held in St. John's church on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of Holy Week. On Friday evening five adults were received by confirmation. Easter Sunday was a glorious day. The church itself was beautiful. With the exquisite altar coverings and the half hundred pure white hyacinths the very sanctuary spoke a resurrection message. A large proportion of the members of St. John's surrounded the altar and partook of the Holy Communion. At this service four more adults were received making a total of 21. Easter evening at 7.30 Mr. Harold S. Smith, Supt., of the Sunday School presiding, the children rendered a very beautiful program. The offering for the day was almost two hundred dollars—a beautiful measure of the grateful spirit of the people of St. John's. A fitting climax to the Easter celebration came on Monday evening when from four to six o'clock, the children of the primary and Beginner's departments were entertained at an Easter party in the Sunday School rooms.

METHODISTS HOPE

FOR UNIFICATION

Conferences To Be Held Here Under Feeling of Friendliness Hitherto Unknown.

A feeling of friendliness, with the hope of amalgamation within the next few years, is the spirit which will pervade the conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South that will be held simultaneously in Baltimore, beginning yesterday. Pursuance of this hope the three churches will hold two union meetings at the Lyric theatre, one a temperance gathering and the other for the ordination of elders.

Negotiations for the thrashing out of differences among the three churches have been under way for several years. A body of commissioners of Methodist Episcopal Church and the Southern Methodist church have drawn up a tentative plan for the unification of the two churches. This body will discuss the plans at a meeting in St. Louis April 10.

The pastors of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the most important event of their conference will be the appointment of 10 men, five representing the clergy and five the lay members, to represent the church at a general conference to be held at Atlanta, Ga., May 2, at which conference the most important business will be the possible unification of the two churches.

CITIZENS OF BEDFORD COUNTY

Should Purchase Third Liberty Loan Bonds From Solicitors in the County.

Each district of Bedford county has been allotted its pro rata share of the amount required to be raised in Bedford county for the Third Liberty Loan in accordance with the assessed valuations, and every subscription entered through solicitors or taken at any bank outside of the county may materially affect the subscriptions in the district in which the subscriber lives. After the campaign closes the total subscriptions for each district will be published and no loyal citizen of the county will want to see his district fall short of its quota. Solicitors have been named in every district of Bedford county who will visit every home in Bedford county for subscriptions.

Each patriotic citizen of this country wants to do his duty, and while we do not all go to the front, we can do our share by buying bonds so that our government can carry on this war for us.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Marries French Girl. Likes the Service

Dear Aunt and Uncle:

Will now write you a few lines to let you know I am well and getting along as well as usual. I truly hope these few lines do not fail to find you all well.

We had a great deal of rainy weather until the first of March then it turned to a four inch snow so winter is not all over yet.

How is every thing back in Sleepy Hollow. I guess its charged quite different from what it was when I was there. I guess most of the boys from around there are gone into service.

I am wearing a steel hat it comes in very nice when the shells get to flying and buzzing through the air. I also have a mask for over my face when Mr. Boche gets to shooting over their gas. All persons must carry their steel hat and gas mask with them for the gas is very severe.

There are quite a few fellows here from Six Mile Run, Robertsdale, Sandy Run and Altoona. There is only one from Everett that I know of that is Summer Smith, Meta Smith's brother. He is not far from where I am except he is in an engineer Regiment close a port of disembarkation for troops.

Well you may not believe me but I would not of missed this for all the money in the world for we have made all kinds of love to those reetpy sweet French girls. I am to be married to one now soon. I knew several before I got acquainted with this one so I drove a little slow for I was afraid I might get handed a lemon. Some of them are fine cooks and house keepers but they don't seem worth a cent for baking bread and pies are unknown over here and ice cream also. You can get all the liquor you want to drink, but give me good cold water for mine.

Every thing is out of sight in price and the quality is to be considered. I will close with my love and best wishes to you and all.

Your loving nephew,
Milburn Sloan,
Co. E, 26th Inf.,

Drive a Nail Here--Now.

In every healthy body there are fifty grains of iron, about as much as is contained in an ordinary "tenpenny" nail. By reason of lack of iron in the blood many persons are anemic, pale, thin, emaciated, their blood corpuscles are uneven, instead of being round and full of good red blood, and the nerves are lacking in strength. Feed the nerves on good, rich, red blood, and one feels full of vigor.

How can we acquire good red blood? It is easily answered. For many years Dr. Pierce and his staff of physicians at the Surgical Institute, in Buffalo, N. Y., experimented with iron and other tonics, and finally found a soluble iron which, when combined with native herbal extracts, made a wonderful blood and nerve tonic. This they named "Iron-Tonic." It can now be had at most drug stores, and comes in 60-cent vials. If you feel worn out before the day is half over, if your blood is poor, if your are pale, or pimples or boils appear on the face or neck, go to the nearest drug store and get "Iron-Tonic" tablets. Take them regularly for thirty days, and you will notice the wonderful energizing effect. You will feel full of vim, vigor and vitality, instead of dull, tired and weak. If you wish to make a test send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and obtain a trial package. Do it now!

To Get This Big Aluminum Cereal Cooker for One Dollar

To Any Housewife Who Missed It

Once more we make this offer, but for one week only.

A million homes have been supplied with the ideal Mother's Cookers. But countless new homes in the past year have adopted Mother's Oats.

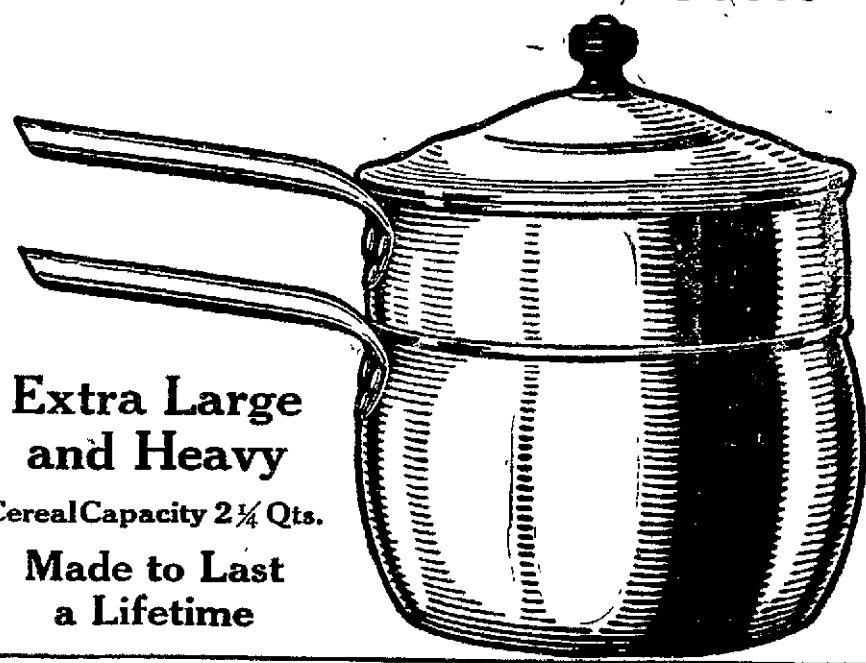

A wave of economy, plus wheatless meals, have multiplied oat-food users. And millions of them—to get this matchless flavor—are using Mother's Oats.

We want those new users to have Cookers too. So we repeat this remarkable offer.

The cost of aluminum has doubled. Cooker prices have enormously advanced. But we make new users the same offer that we made to old. We will send this big aluminum Cooker for only $1, all charges prepaid, under offer made below.

This offer is for one week only. It applies only to those who have no Mother's Cooker now. If you are one of them we urge you to accept it.

For Mother's Oats Users

Extra Large and Heavy
Cereal Capacity 2 1/4 Qts.
Made to Last a Lifetime

A Million Homes Supplied

We have supplied over a million users of Mother's Oats with an ideal way to cook them. The purpose is to have Mother's Oats cooked rightly.

Mother's Oats—flaked from queen grains only—has a wealth of flavor. Right cooking keeps that flavor intact. It makes the oat dish doubly delightful—makes it easy to digest.

So we had this Cooker made to our order—an ideal double cooker. It is extra large, so little or much can be cooked in it. It is extra heavy, made to last a lifetime.

That is the Cooker—made of pure aluminum—which we offer this week for one dollar, under the conditions below. If you are serving Mother's Oats, or if you will, we want you to have this Cooker.

$1 Brings It This Week

Buy from your grocer five packages of Mother's Oats, or of Quaker Best Corn Meal, or five packages of the two combined. Send us your grocer's sales slip for the purchase and send $1 with it. We will then send this cooker to you, all charges prepaid. This offer is good for one week only, and it applies to this vicinity alone. Address,

Mother's Oats,
1708 Railway Exchange, Chicago

The Two Chief War-Time Foods

Mother's Oats At 1/8 the Cost of Meat

Quaker Best Corn Meal The Best 60% of the Corn

Mother's Oats, measured by food units, is twice as nutritious as round steak. It supplies nutrition at a cost of five cents per 1000 calories.

Meats, on the average, cost eight times as much for the same food value. Eggs cost ten times as much. You can serve six dishes of Mother's Oats for the cost of a single egg.

The oat stands supreme among grain foods, in nutrition and in flavor. It far exceeds wheat in food units.

It is the energy food and the food for growth. It supplies every needed element in just the right proportion. It should be your basic food.

Mother's Oats is flaked from queen grains only—just the big, rich, flaky oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel. So in this brand you get a wondrous flavor without any extra price. All oat foods are doubly delightful if made with Mother's Oats.

Next to oats in economy comes Corn Meal. We make an exquisite corn meal, and put it up in sealed round packages.

In Quaker Corn Meal we use the cream of the corn—about 60 per cent of the kernel.

The fibrous outer coat is removed, because it makes corn meal coarse. The oily germ is removed, because the oil grows rancid. Just the hominy part—yellow or white—is ground to make Quaker Corn Meal.

The result is superlative corn meal, yellow or white. The yellow looks like grains of gold—the white like marble dust. It makes bread and muffins, porridge, puddings and pancakes vastly better than any crude corn meal.

Get the Yellow or White in round packages with tops. See how good corn meal can be.

PEACE

The United States did not enter into this war unadvisedly, hastily, under stress of heat or passion. We took the step calmly, soberly, reluctantly, with a full sense of the awful responsibilities involved, the sacrifice and peace, how necessary to the task.

President Wilson did not advise in his war message, nor did Congress act in declaring a state of war between the United States and Germany without giving the most solemn consideration to what the action meant. They knew it meant the death of thousands of brave Americans; they knew it meant suffering and wounds and the disabling for life of hundreds of thousands of our young men. They counted to the full the human cost and the material cost.

Every development since has justified and proved the wisdom and the imperative necessity of America's participation. Every German success and every German failure have shown how necessary to our own welfare and peace, how necessary to the safety and peace of the world the defeat of Germany is. Every foot of ground Germany has been forced to give up, every foot of land she has seized, have demonstrated the imperative necessity of defeating that sinister, intolerable thing called Germanism.

Germanism is 3,000 miles away. It must never come any nearer. Let this war result in anything but the defeat of Germany, let her emerge with her power unbroken and her kultur still dominant, and it is but a question of time until we alone will be fighting Germany instead of warring against her with our Allies on our side.

Lincoln said that this country could not exist half slave and half free. All Americans now recognize that truth. The events of the last few years have shown equally clearly that this world can not exist half free and half autocratic—half free people loving liberty and justice and peace and half an autocracy seeking to dominate the world, caring nothing for liberty or justice and nothing for humanity and civilization where they interfere with its ambition.

There is no peace for America except a just peace, a peace that means a world fit for free people to live in. German ideals, German purposes, and German practices are the antitheses of American. The beliefs we love and honor and uphold are contemptible to them; the objects for which they will put to death millions their own men and millions of their enemy are abhorrent to our ideas of right and justice; their methods and practices in warfare are an abomination and horror to us.

The American who now advocates or wishes for peace, except a just peace, is either woefully misguided or a traitor to America's future and America's past, to all things American—the things which have made our country great and free, which hundreds of thousands of Americans have died to maintain, and for which Americans now are dying in France.

There can be no peace with honor or safety to ourselves or to posterity, except a just peace, and there can and will be no other peace. Work for peace accomplishes nothing but the hampering of our effort, the delay of the real peace, and a greater toll of death of America's fighting men. Our duty is to war for a just and righteous peace; to work or speak for any other peace is treason.

FLORIDA LETTER

March 28, 1918.

Philip's Boy:

Dear Sir:

In writing to my friends I said I would come home by the time the blue birds made their appearance, but if I wait to see them here I will be apt to die in Florida. Blackbirds and sparrows with a few mockingbirds are all we have here. The first State Fair for Jacksonville was well attended and the exhibits very fine. But few soldiers at Camp Johnson now, but a large body of men expected in a few days from other camps. Many of the tourists have left for their homes and band music in Hemming Park will cease with Easter Sunday. With no music and nearly all of my friends gone home the Park will have no more attractions and look no better than a polling booth, the day after election. Florida is a fine place to be when the north is in the grip of the ice king, but when the time of the singing of birds "has come" and the birds are here, we are anxious to go to our northern homes.

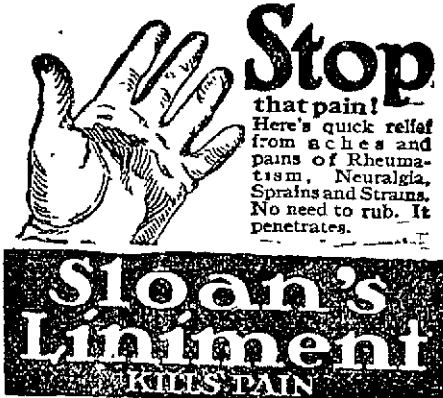

Florida is a great state for fish; many people subsisting on "suckers" caught on the main streets of the cities. The sucker that listens to the wily real estate dealer and invests in Florida sand has surely made a permanent investment. We have green vegetables here now but I am willing to change my diet to buckwheat cakes and maple syrup and will journey north in a few days.

With best wishes to you and all your readers I am,

Yours truly,
Summer Hendrickson,
P. S. Next address, Cumberland.

It contains no whiting, silica, china clay or other such stuff. It is made of the same pure ingredients that the old-time painter used: Pure White Lead, Pure White Zinc, Pure Linseed Oil, and nothing else. Devoe is mixed by machinery, 1000 gallons at a time. That makes it absolutely uniform in strength, color and covering capacity—always takes fewer gallons, too.

HARRISBURG NEWS LETTER

There are two big reasons why this is a Democratic year for Pennsylvania—the Wilson administration and the Republican bosses of Pennsylvania. The capabilities and successes of the former and the factional bickerings of the latter will both help to make the Republican State of Pennsylvania Democratic. Belief in Wilson and confidence in the Washington government have aided in showing the people that the Democrats can govern. And then at a time when these Republican party for its own protection should be united and select a ticket in which the voters could place some reliance, the factional split was allowed to develop and the Penrose organization, casting possible harmony aside picked a ticket that, while truly representative of all that stands for Penrosism, is not one in which the people's faith can be pinned to at all securely.

Never before were men sadly needed for candidates who possess not only personal honesty and integrity, whose past records are clean and whose future promises can be relied upon. Senator Penrose knew this but because of the factional differences of opinion would harken to no talk regarding any one except to be aligned with his own faction. The result has been a state of men whose public record in the general assembly at Harrisburg has been diametrically opposed to their present day declarations—their vote-getting avowals.

Senator Sproul, slated by Penrose as a gubernatorial candidate a year ago, had another coming out party the other day at Swarthmore. He again formally announced his candidacy, just as if he had not mentioned the fact at the brewery-financed dinner at Pittsburgh two months before. And then, as was to have been expected Senator E. E. Beidleman, another trusted Penrose follower on the floor of the Senate, formally came out with a statement that he was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. This had been understood at the Pittsburgh dinner also, and while there had been much talk meanwhile about Congressman John R. K. Scott, the rare choice, Scott had never been even considered as a possibility by Penrose.

The elimination of Scott from the Penrose slate also meant that Paul Houck, the absentee Secretary, of Internal Affairs, who had only the backing of that select coterie of Schuylkill county statemen headed by Auditor General Snyder and "Bill" Leib, dual and triplex office holders, just as Houck had been prior to his selection as Secretary, did not have a chance to run as his own successor on the Penrose slate. "Jim" Woodward, chairman of the House Appropriations committee which handles all the hospital gratuities and through which the log-rolling at the Capitol is made possible, has been the Penrose choice for the start for this post and will get the place.

All three of these men have been staunch supporters of the Boss in the Legislature for years. Did anyone ever hear them getting up in their places and talking against the liquor interests that have made Republican elections in Pennsylvania a scandal? They never were known to take such a stand. Beidleman and Woodward still have their feet pressed down hard on the soft pedal on the question of the ratification amendment. They are not naturally drys any more than Sproul is. Of course, they have not any thing more to do with the amendment and its ratification in Pennsylvania than a celery raiser in Kalamazoo, except they are on a ticket with a man who talks a lot about the amendment without saying much.

Sproul in his latest statement covers everything, almost, that any voter is interested in except new sheep laws, the protection of blue heron and vivisection. He talks of the big cities and the smaller cities and the boroughs and the townships, suffrage, taxation, economic expenditures and humanitarian laws, but his sudden interest in many things has laid him open to skepticism on the party of some voters.

His sudden conversion to prohibition will not bear close or strict scrutiny in view of his votes with the liquor interests. He has a twenty-two year old Senatorial record that cannot be hid in the course of a comparatively short campaign.

The Republican Public Ledger of Philadelphia, which apparently is not supporting any candidate yet, has a few pointed remarks to make on the subject of the Delaware Legislator. It says:

"The Senator's conversion to woman suffrage and to the prohibition of the liquor traffic is so sudden and it runs counter to the party machine with which he has always worked in intimate harmony that his utterances on these two subjects will naturally be subjected to close scrutiny. And such scrutiny has been possible thus far leaving much to be desired. It is true Senator Sproul commends both causes, but of one he says he 'hopes' he 'may have the privilege of assisting' and of the other he believes it is to be 'his patriotic duty' to aid in securing ratification."

"This is hardly the language of a man of deep convictions determined to do his utmost for the cause he espouses, nor does it reflect confidence that his position will be effectively supported by the Organization of which he has long been an active member or by those leaders to whose backing he looks chiefly for success."

"For, after all, it is not the Governor who will bring about the ratification of the suffrage and prohibition amendments or who will frame and pass legislation for a Greater Philadelphia and a better Organization of the State Administration, but that political Organization which has repeatedly failed the people when reform legislation was promised. It is the State's misfortune that in the coming primary and election the choice of officials will lie less as between the candidates than between the political forces behind them, unless, of course, the votes awake and take the matter in their own hands."

The latest Sproul statement did not appeal to J. Denny O'Neil, the Delaware man's opponent in the race for the Republican gubernatorial stakes, forcibly enough to cause him to even think that he might withdraw now that Sproul has spoken. He threw a few verbal bolts at the Senator, termed in his characteristic breezy fashion.

"Senator Sproul," he said after reading the Swarthmore declaration of a change of heart, has again either purposely or foolishly, made a misleading statement in an effort to win dry votes. It lacks the true ring of sincerity. In his platform he has evaded and equivocated. It is the most apparent camouflage, and if this is not a vitally serious matter, his stand would be looked on as a farce comedy. He has left the proverbial loophole for the liquor interests who are supporting and backing him. It is big enough, figuratively, to drive a horse and wagon through."

"Senator Sproul says: 'The people of the State will settle this question through their legislature and they must be unhampered in their decision by any political interference.' This is an adroit combination of words, but it is dangerous and deadly to the dry cause. It means no persons shall take a hand in the selection of canvass for, and nomination of, legislative candidates. It means that the liquor machine, backed by the Penrose lieutenants and the German-American Alliance, experienced and now desperate, shall have free and uninterrupted sway. It speaks for Gang methods at the polls. It denies the dry organizations—the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League and the Dry Federation of Pennsylvania—the right to fight for ratification candidates. It is side-stepping the greatest question ever submitted to the Nation—is equivocation in its most highly developed state."

"I say 'Beware of Greeks bearing gifts,' and look into the giftbearer's previous record."

THE GREAT WAR HAS MADE CIGARETTES A NECESSITY.

"Our boys must have their smokes. Send them cigarettes!" This is a familiar appeal now to all of us.

Among those most in demand is the now famous "toasted" cigarette—LUCKY STRIKE. Thousands of this favorite brand have been shipped to France. There is something homelike and friendly to the boys in the sight of the familiar green packages with the red circle.

This homelike, appetizing quality of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is largely due to the fact that the Burley tobacco used in making it has been toasted. "It's toasted" was the "slogan" that made a great success of LUCKY STRIKE in less than a year. Now the American Tobacco Co. is making 15 million LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes a day.

A good part of this immense production is making its way across the water to cheer our boys.

SMITH HAS DECIDED TO DROP DOWN AGAIN

Edgar A. Smith, a prospective candidate for State Senator, with Harry C. James and William Brice, Jr., made a trip to Somerset last week to interview some leading Republicans on supporting Smith for State Senator. The water got too cold while in Somerset and on their return, they deserted the idea and are now swinging into nominate him for the legislature again. The influential Republicans of Somerset set down on Brice and James like a thousand bricks and completely squelched them. The fight now is between Dr. Howard Camp of Everett, and Edgar R. Smith for the legislature with the Penrose people swinging in for Smith.

SET YOUR CLOCK AHEAD IF YOU HAVE NEGLECTED IT

The Daylight Saving plan has been accomplished and the business of the Nation has been speeded up one hour to save daylight and economize on war preparations. This extra hour of daylight saving means millions to our armies and our people. You simply get up an hour earlier, get through at the factory an hour earlier and have an hour extra time to do work at home in the afternoon or work overtime if necessary at an advanced wage. England, France, Italy and Germany have adopted the system and they figure a saving of immense value. The United States have followed their lead. This extra day light saving hour will maintain until 2 a. m. on the morning of the last Sunday in October when the clocks will be turned back an hour, and the Nation will slip as smoothly out of daylight saving as it slipped into it.

Postmaster Enfield called the meeting to order by inviting Rev. Bell to open the exercises by prayer after which Postmaster Enfield announced the object of the meeting in this great crisis through which this Nation is now passing.

Rev. Bell was then introduced to the Postmasters of Bedford County, Mr. Bell responded by a magnetic appeal to the Postmasters to induce the public to subscribe for the War Savings and Thrift Stamps. A. H. Whetstone of Everett was presented to the meeting who fully explained the workings of this new system of saving and thrift so popular through out the whole Nation. Over one hundred millions have already been subscribed in the U. S. and nearly seventy thousand in Bedford County.

A. B. Egolf, Chairman of the Third Liberty Loan and Attorney B. F. Madore publicity chairman, fully explained how the drive would be made by the sale of these bonds beginning April 6th. All the Postmasters were guests of Chairman Whetstone at the Grand Central Hotel for dinner.

New Wrinkle for Seed Corn

Prof Wm. Moore and Prof. H. K. Hayes of the University of Minnesota have been testing seed corn and claim to have found out something new in sprouting corn by fumigating the seed with nitro-benzene which makes it come up tow days earlier, also killing grain parasites. They explain thus:

"Nitro benzene is an oil, a coal tar derivative. Its price has been raised somewhat by war causes, but it is commercially obtainable. We fumigate the corn by placing it in a closed box in which is suspended a cloth saturated with the oil. The fumes do the work."

"We think well enough of present indications to make known our findings at this time, so that farmers who are facing a critical seed corn situation may try out the process if they see fit."

"Why does the treatment so affect the corn? We haven't the slightest idea. We only know that it has had that effect with corn we have treated."

Rebecrites.

In 1213 a band of Welsh rioters made war upon the toll-gates along the highways of a large district. The captain of the rioters and his guard disguised themselves in female attire, and they were called Rebecrites. This name arose from a gross perversion of a text of Scripture: "And they blessed Rebecah, and said unto her . . . let thy seed possess the gate of those who hate them."—Genesis 24:60.

Business and Collections.

Small Gordon is the son of a physician and is fond of being with his father when he types his monthly statements. Meeting him one morning on his way to the mail box with a handful of envelopes, a neighbor called to him: "How is business, Gordon?" To which he replied: "Business is good, but collections is poor."

There is nothing in the line of wearing apparel for the family that we do not carry, and at the prices we will sell our stock during this sale the heads of families will make no mistake in buying for the needs of next winter as well as the present spring and summer season. We have the merchandise to please all, from the moderate-priced garment to the very highest-priced. ## AN AMERICAN SOLDIER WHO WENT

ARTHUR GUY EMPEY

MACHINE GUNNER, SERVING IN FRANCE

CHAPTER XI.

Over the Top.

On my second trip to the trenches our officer was making his rounds of inspection, and we received the cheerful news that at four in the morning we were to go over the top and take the German front-line trench. My heart turned to lead. Then the officer carried on with his instructions. To the best of my memory I recall them as follows: "At eleven a wiring party will go out in front and cut lanes through our barbed wire for the passage of troops in the morning. At two o'clock our artillery will open up with an intense bombardment, which will last until four. Upon the lifting of the barrage the first of the three waves will go over." Then he left. Some of the Tommies, first getting permission from the sergeant, went into the machine gunners' dugout and wrote letters home, saying that in the morning they were going over the top, and also that at the letters reached their destination it would mean that the writer had been killed.

These letters were turned over to the captain with instructions to mail same in the event of the writer's being killed. Some of the men made out their wills in their pay books, under the caption, "Will and Last Testament."

Then the nerve-racking wait commenced. Every now and then I would glance at the dial of my wrist watch and was surprised to see how fast the minutes passed by. About five minutes to two I got nervous waiting for our guns to open up. I could not take my eyes from my watch. I crouched against the parapet and strained my muscles in a deathlike grip upon my rifle. As the hands on my watch showed two o'clock a blinding red flare lighted up the sky in our rear, then thunder, intermixed with a sharp, whistling sound in the air over our heads. The shells from our guns were speeding on their way toward the German lines. With one accord the men sprang up on the fire step and looked over the top in the direction of the German trenches. A line of bursting shells lighted up No Man's Land. The din was terrific and the ground trembled. Then, high above our heads we could hear a sighing moan. Our big boys behind the line had opened up and 9.2's and 15-inch shells commenced dropping into the German lines. The flash of the guns behind the lines, the scream of the shells through the air, and the flare of them, bursting, was a spectacle that put Pain's greatest display into the shade. The constant pop, pup, of German machine guns and an occasional rattle of rifle firing gave me the impression of a huge audience applauding the work of the batteries.

Our 18-pounders were destroying the German barbed wire, while the heavier stuff was demolishing their trenches and bashing in dugouts or funk holes. Then Fritz got busy.

Their shells went screaming overhead, aimed in the direction of the flares from our batteries. Trench mortars started dropping "Minnies" in our front line. We clicked several casualties. Then they suddenly ceased. Our artillery had taped or silenced them.

During the bombardment you could almost read a newspaper in our trench. Sometimes in the flare of a shell-burst a man's body would be silhouetted against the parados of the trench and it appeared like a huge monster. You could hardly hear yourself think. When an order was to be passed down the trench you had to yell it, using your hands as a funnel into the ear of the man sitting next to you on the fire step. In about twenty minutes a generous rum issue was doled out. After drinking the rum, which tasted like varnish and sent a shudder through your frame, you wondered why they made you wait until the lifting of the barrage before going over. At ten minutes to four word was passed down, "Ten minutes to go!" Ten minutes to live! We were shivering all over. My legs felt as if they were asleep. Then word was passed down: "First wave get on and near the scaling ladders."

These were small wooden ladders which we had placed against the parapet to enable us to go over the top on the lifting of the barrage. "Ladders of death" we called them, and veritably they were.

Before a charge Tommy is the plottest of men. There is never any pushing or crowding to be first up these ladders. We crouched around the base of the ladders waiting for the word to go over. I was sick and faint, and was puffing away at an unlighted cigar. Then came the word, "Three minutes to go; upon the lifting of the barrage and on the blast of the whistles, 'Over the top with the best o' luck and give them hell!'" The famous phrase of the western front. To Tommy it means if you are lucky enough to come back you will be minus an arm or a leg. Tommy hates to be wished the best of luck; so, when peace is declared, if it ever is, and you meet a Tommy on the street, just wish him the best of luck and duck the brick that follows.

I glanced again at my wrist watch. We all wore them and you could hardly call us "stssies" for doing so. It was a minute to four. I could see the hand move to the twelve, then a dead silence. It hurt. Everyone looked up to see what had happened, but not for long. Sharp whistle blasts rang out along the trench, and with a cheer the men scrambled up the ladders. The bullets were cracking overhead, and occasionally a machine gun would rip and tear the top of the sandbag parapet. How I got up that ladder I will never know. The first ten feet out in front was agony. Then we passed through lanes in our barbed wire. I knew I was running, but could feel no motion below the waist. Patches on the ground seemed to float to the rear as if I were on a treadmill and scenery was rushing past me. The Germans had put a barrage of shrapnel across No Man's Land, and you could hear the pieces slap the ground about you.

After I had passed our barbed wire and gotten into No Man's Land a Tommy about fifteen feet to my right front turned around and looking in my direction, put his hand to his mouth and yelled something which I could not make out on account of the noise from the bursting shells. Then he coughed, stumbled, pitched forward and lay still. His body seemed to float to the rear of me. I could hear sharp cracks in the air about me. These were caused by passing rifle bullets. Frequently, on my right and left, little spurts of dirt would rise into the air and a ratchet bullet would whine on its way. If a Tommy should see one of these little spurts in front of him, he would tell the nurse about it later. The crossing of No Man's Land remains a blank to me.

Men on my right and left would stumble and fall. Some would try to get up, while others remained huddled and motionless. Then smashed-up barbed wire came into view and seemed carried on a tide to the rear. Suddenly, in front of me loomed a bashed-in trench about four feet wide. Queer-looking forms like mud turtles were scrambling up its wall. One of these forms seemed to slip and then rolled to the bottom of the trench. I leaped across this intervening space. The man to my left seemed to pause in midair, then pitched head down into the German trench. I laughed out loud in my delirium. Upon alighting on the other side of the trench I came to with a sudden jolt. Right in front of me loomed a giant form with a rifle which looked about ten feet long, on the end of which seemed seven bayonets. These flashed in the air in front of me. Then through my mind flashed the admonition of our bayonet instructor back in Blighty. He had said, "Whenever you get in a charge and run your bayonet up to the hilt into a German the Fritz will fall. Perhaps your rifle will be wrenched from your grasp. Do not waste time, if the bayonet is fouled in his equipment, by putting your foot on his stomach and tugging at the rifle to extricate the bayonet. Simply press the trigger and the bullet will free it." In my present situation this was the logic, but for the life of me I could not remember how he had told me to get my bayonet into the German. To me this was the paramount issue. I closed my eyes and lunged forward. My rifle was torn from my hands. I must have gotten the German because he had disappeared. About twenty feet to my left front was a huge Prussian nearly six feet four inches in height, a fine specimen of physical manhood. The bayonet from his rifle was missing, but he clutched the barrel in both hands and was swinging the butt around his head. I could almost hear the swish of the butt passing through the air. Three little Tommies were engaged with him. They looked like pigmies alongside of the Prussian. The Tommy on the left was gradually circling to the rear of his opponent. It was a funny sight to see them duck the swinging butt and try to jab him at the same time. The Tommy nearest me received the butt of the German's rifle in a smashing blow below the right temple. It smashed his head like an eggshell. He pitched forward on his side and a convulsive shudder ran through his body. Meanwhile the other Tommy had gained the rear of the Prussian. Suddenly about four inches of bayonet protruded from the throat of the Prussian soldier, who staggered forward and fell. I will never forget the look of blank astonishment that came over his face.

Then something hit me in the left shoulder and my left side went numb. It felt as if a hot poker was being driven through me. I felt no pain—just a sort of nervous shock. A bayonet had pierced me from the rear. I fell backward on the ground, but was not unconscious, because I could see dim objects moving around me. Then a flash of light in front of my eyes and unconsciousness. Something had hit me on the head. I have never found out what it was.

I dreamed I was being tossed about in an open boat on a heaving sea and opened my eyes. The moon was shining. I was on a stretcher being carried down one of our communication trenches. At the advanced first-aid post my wounds were dressed, and then I was put into an ambulance and sent to one of the base hospitals. The wounds in my shoulder and head were not serious and in six weeks I had rejoined my company for service in the front line.

RHEUMATISM IS TORTURE

As Many a Bedford Reader Knows Only Too Well

Many pains that pass as rheumatism are really due to weak kidneys—to the failure of the kidneys to drive off uric acid thoroughly. When you suffer aches, bad joints, backache, too, dizziness and some urinary disturbances, get Doan's Kidney Pills, the medicine that is publicly recommended by over 150,000 people in many different lands. Doan's Kidney Pills help weak kidneys to drive out uric acid, which is often the cause of the backache, rheumatism and lumbago. Bedford people have learned their worth. Read this Bedford resident's experience.

Miss Mollie Spidel, 172 Spring St., says: "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and suffered greatly from backaches and rheumatic pains in my arms and limbs. I had headaches and dizzy spells. I tried many medicines, but found no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Dull's Drug Store. They relieved me of the backaches and rheumatic pains. The headaches and dizzy spells left and I was greatly benefited in every way. I haven't had any symptoms of the trouble since."
